THE HOUSE

velopment of the natural resources of the Territory.

Douthitt's bill to raise the penalty of assault and battery from six months to a year's imprisonment was tabled. This should be good news to wife-beaters.

FORTY-NINTH DAY.

Morning Session.

Senator Coelho's fish bill was tabled in the House of Representatives this morning on advice of the health and police committee which declared:

"The object of this bill is to prohibit aliens from fishing within certain limits from the beach line, confining them to deep-sea fishing only. Although this bill would allow them to fish beyond the reef, it would still prevent them from fishing for the required bait which can only be obtained within the prohibitory zone and thus impose upon them an unnecessary hardship and expense.

"Your committee believes that the passing of such a bill would defeat the objects sought, but on the other hand materially advance the price of fish to consumers all over the islands and whatever new might be benefited, the whole community would be the sufferers and more particularly the Hawaiian-Americans."

MEDICAL FREEDOM.

Health and police committee submitted a substitute bill for Douthitt's measure relating to the practice of medicine, saying of the original bill:

"The passage of this bill might tend to encourage a monopoly in favor of the present holders of licenses to practice medicine in that the medical examiners, selected from their number, would be permitted to impose such standards of efficiency which are obtainable only in the largest cities of the union, and thus prevent a new man from practicing here, who might be equally or more efficient than the examining board, but not in touch with their particular school of medicine."

THE SUBSTITUTE BILL.
Under the substitute bill licenses for osteopathy practice may be granted in cases where applicants have diplomas from legally chartered and regularly conducted schools of colleges of osteopathy. Nor shall the practice of medicine here be construed to exclude the use of any method tangible or intangible by any person licensed to practice osteopathy, though osteopaths are barred the use of drugs and the privilege of surgical operations.

SICK ANIMAL BILL.
Shingle put in a bill providing:

"Any person knowing that any animal is affected with glanders or any infectious or contagious disease, who shall fail to report, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor." Fine from $5 to $100.

"The purchaser of any horse, mule or ass which shall develop symptoms within two weeks may recover amount and reasonable damages."

COMMITTEE REPORTS.
Finance committee recommended tabling Carley's bill for the reimbursement of the Territory for the cost of the Kula pipe line, since the matter is covered by another bill.

It recommends passage of Affonso's bill to authorize the Territory to pay to Hawaii County certain special road fund deposits.

The health and police committee recommends tabling Nakaleka's bill for a leper hospital on Oahu as another bill has already become law and covers the matter.

It recommends tabling Coelho's bill to authorize the counties to maintain hospitals, since the appropriation bill has been adjusted with such a provision in view and the House has already passed a bill covering the matter.

It recommends the passage of Makekahu's bill to permit persons to prosecute civil actions in forma pauperis.

The public expenditures committee amends Rice's bill to provide for the payment of expenses of the district courts by counties, reducing figures materially.

The House this morning passed the Senate Joint resolution in re the appointment of a commission to investigate conditions in regard to unawarded and unpatented lands.

THE SENATE

for vagueness in not naming boundaries for its apparently leaving open the use of throw nets. Woods, Makekahu and Brown gave explanations and the report was adopted.

President Smith read a wireless message from the Hilo Board of Trade endorsing the protest of the Shippers' Wharf Committee against turning health matters over to the counties.

ORDER OF THE DAY.

Senate bill fixing witness fees and mileage passed third reading 13-0.

Senate bill relating to exemption of personal and property taxes was read a third time.

Knudsen asked how much would the bill reduce the revenue. Yesterday they increased the appropriations by $162,000. If they monkeyed with the revenue also they would be liable to be confronted with the necessity of an extra session.

Fairchild stated that the ways and means committee had in preparation an elaborate statement of the finances of the Territory, including the counties. He did not believe in the principle of the bill because every man should be willing to pay his rightful share of the expenses of the government under which he lives. Still he did not believe that the bill would materially reduce the revenue. He could not vote for it, as if the burden of taxation fell unjustly the law should be changed.

McCarthy regarded the bill as the companion bill of that already passed raising the income tax exemption from $1000 to $1500. There were people owning little kuleanas that did not yield a dollar a day. It was no more than right, where a man had a little home, that he should have an exemption of $500.

Robinson made remarks on the revenue question. At the suggestion of the president and on motion of McCarthy an amendment was made bringing the law into effect on December 31, 1909.

The bill passed 12-0, the president remarking after the vote that while was opposed to the principle of exemptions this bill was only consistent with the tax exemption law enacted.

Senate bill for transferring balances of road taxes from the treasury to the districts whereto they belong passed third reading 12-0.

Senate bill providing for local improvements by means of an additional property tax not to exceed one-fourth of one per cent, on third reading, was ordered to remain on the order of the day until called up.

Senate bill repealing section 1078, R. L., relating to certificates of vacuation, passed third reading 11-0.

POWERS OF COUNTIES.

House bill relating to the general powers and liabilities of counties, on third reading, evoked a lively discussion ending in action being deferred.

President Smith from the chair first called attention to what he deemed indefinite phraseology, and later from the floor pitched into the measure with gloves.

Makekahu, at the first bloom of dissent, moved that the bill be deferred. Moore stated that the ways and means committee had the advice of counsel authorized by the Senate in considering the bill. It was only in consonance with the generally accepted policy of increasing the functions of county government. Fairchild added that their advisers were W. A. Kinney representing the Democratic party and A. G. M. Robertson the Republican party.

Smith moved an amendment striking out words giving boards of supervisors power to discontinue hospitals and schools. Fairchild contended that if boards of supervisors extended aid to hospitals they should have a certain amount of supervision over them. He was unable to answer the legal opinions of President W. O. Smith, yet did not think that the Senate should be absolutely guided by one lawyer. The bill should be deferred until the Senate could have the advice of counsel.

McCarthy moved to defer the bill to tomorrow and that the attorneys who drafted the bill be invited to be present at its consideration.

President Smith agreed that where private institutions were aided the counties adding them should have some control, but where the Territory owns the institutions the counties should not have the power to cripple or abolish them.

McCarthy pointed out a condition in the bill making county control dependent on surrender by the Territory.

Knudsen said there was no subject in which the people took a more intelligent interest than schools. In the County of Kauai, if there were local management, a dilapidated school building would be repaired in a few weeks, where they would have to wait for years for the authorities in Honolulu to do the work. The speaker expressed weariness over the "old foggy notions" of the president.

Fairchild said that all over the United States the curriculum was in the hands of state boards but the general management of the schools was in the counties. They were in that Senate to do business and were competent to do their business without the direction of the Chamber of Commerce.

The bill was deferred till tomorrow.

Several House bills on third reading, which related to counties, were deferred until other pending bills have been further considered.

Senate bill relating to contempt, on third reading, was indefinitely postponed by adoption of the judiciary elio, was alone in raising his hand committee's report. Its author, Co-for it.

HOUSE MEASURES.

House concurrent resolution declaring the sense of the Legislature that the Auditor of the Territory semi-annually make public advertisement for supplies for departments of the Territory was adopted on motion of McCarthy immediately after its reading.

House concurrent resolution, expressing it as the opinion of the Legislature that the expenditures of the Board of Agriculture and Forestry should be according to a schedule appearing in the resolution, was referred to the public lands committee.

Senate bill relating to the disposition of fines, costs and forfeited bail, returned by the House with amendments, was referred to the ways and means committee.

House bill providing an annual license on the business of wireless telegraphy passed first reading.

On the oral recommendation of the ways and means committee, Fairchild saying merchants and others had been consulted, House bill relating to merchandise licenses passed second reading.

KAUAI AT PAR.

Fairchild presented a report of the ways and means committee on House bill amending the County Act relative to salaries, saying it had been "held in the committee owing to the belief that general retrenchment in the Territory and counties was advisable, but when the majority vote to increase the salaries of counties in other counties took place, your committee deemed it unjust to hold back any bill which would increase the pay of capable officers in a county which is so well administered as is the County of Kauai." Therefore the committee recommends the passage of the bill amended to make the salary of the county treasurer of Kauai $1800 in place of $1500. The report was adopted.

CLAIMS BILL.

A report of the ways and means committee on Senate bill to appropriate $1400.55 to pay unpaid bills up to Dec. 1, 1906, caused a lot of talk. Chairman Brown was the only signer without reserve. Fairchild Moore and Quinn did not concur except as to the claim of Tollefsen. Coelho did not concur in reducing or striking out claims. Finally the bill passed second reading with all of the items struck out excepting:

Claim of W. K. Keoho of Kipahulu, Maui, for land taken for road proposed in 1900 and for disturbing the remains of the ancestors of claimant, $200.

Claim of O. Tollefsen (added since bill was introduced), for boat lost in performing services for Leger Settlement, $250.

Rejected claims were as follows: Expenses board of registration, 1st district, 1904, $252; Election expenses, board of registration of Maui, 1904, $315; Ditto, board of registration of Kauai and Niihau, 1904, $42; Ditto, board of registration of Maui, 1906, $210; Attorney General's office, claim of D. H. Case for expenses attending to term matters, Oct. and Nov. 1905 and Oct. 1906, $62.75; Expenses of witnesses on circuit terms Oct. 1905 and March and June 1906 $324.80.

Senate bills 27 and 28 and House bill 24 were tabled, as their objects had been covered in other bills.

Senate bill providing for public improvements by an additional tax was referred to the judiciary committee.

Knudsen returned from the judiciary committee House bill relating to the jurisdiction of sheriffs over prisoners with an amendment. The bill was deferred till tomorrow for consideration with various county bills.

APPROPRIATION BILL.

The Senate resumed consideration of the appropriation bill in committee of the whole, Knudsen in the chair, beginning with the Bureau of Conveyances.

The registration was raised from $200 to $225 a month on motion of Chillingworth, and the deputy from $125 to $150. Expert indexer, $100; two clerks, $90 each; five clerks, $75 each; two clerks, $50 each, and expenses, $3500 instead of $3300 in House bill, all passed.

President Smith moved a reconsideration of the salary of the Attorney General, saying $300 a month was not enough to hold a man of sufficient capacity to do the work. He moved to amend the salary to $400 a month.

Robinson thought if the amendment had been moved before action on the appointment of Mr. Hemenway it might be looked at in a different light.

Fairchild favored the amendment and would be willing to pay the right man more than $400 a month.

Quinn, as one who had supported Hemenway's appointment, did not see how the Senate could raise his salary after its first action on his appointment without making itself ridiculous.

McCarthy was sorry the matter had been brought up, and that it could not now be considered on its merits. He agreed with Robinson and did not see that at this time it would do any good to increase the salary. The Governor had recommended $300 and it was up to the Governor to propose a salary fitful to the position.

Smith objected to considering the man. Life and its affairs were so uncertain that it was unwise to regard persons in such matters.

JOHN MUIR
MAY COME

Chairman and members of the Hawaii Promotion Committee.

Gentlemen:—Word came to hand by last steamer that the special order of Hammond's large map of the world on equivalent projections had been shipped from New York. This map has, at our request, been overprinted with special data furnished by the Committee making it a most effective advertisement of the islands.

In this shipment, will be a special Railroad map of the United States.

A letter from Austin, Minn., indicates that Rev. Charles A. Payne, the lecturer, is still saying good things about Hawaii and trying to head people this way.

The following extracts from a letter received from a lady living in White Plains, New York, affords pleasant reading.

"Mid-Pacific, March 25th, 1909.

My dear Mr. Wood:

Before leaving Honolulu, I had hoped the opportunity of thanking you for the many kindness you showed us while in Hawaii. I do so now most heartily. It meant a great deal to us to feel there was someone to whom we could go for any advice or explanations which were given so freely and we are grateful to the whole Hawaii Promotion Committee for the attention to our mails and the gift of so many interesting and helpful pamphlets.

We shall always look back to our visit to Hawaii with much pleasure and hope some time to see its fair shores again."

The following letter from the great naturalist, John Muir, is also of interest.

"Martinez, Cal., April 3, 1909.

Dear Mr. Wood:

The hearty invitation of your Committee to visit Hawaii, sent a year ago, has by no means been forgotten, and it is just possible that I may be able to accept this renewed invitation with Mr. John Borroughs, though on account of some literary work which has been woefully interrupted in many ways of late, it is not at all unlikely that my visit will have to wait still longer.

Faithfully yours,

(Signed) JOHN MUIR.

Mr. Charles Fee, Passenger Traffic Manager of the Southern Pacific Railway Company, writes under date of March 25th.

"It gives me pleasure to inform you that all of our standard folders will henceforth carry an advertisement calling attention to Hawaii's attractions and stating that illustrated folders may be obtained free by writing to the Hawaii Promotion Committee, Honolulu. The circulation of this folder averages One Hundred Thousand copies monthly."

Mr. F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, writes in part as follows:

"We note your request for representation of Hawaii in our advertising matter and shall be glad to comply with this request wherever practicable."

The following letter from Mr. G. D. Dunann, the General Passenger Agent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, is of general interest, indicating, as it does, the likelihood of a series of excursions from the Coast next winter.

"San Francisco, April 1st, 1909.

Mr. H. P. Wood, Secty., The Hawaii Promotion Committee, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Dear Mr. Wood:

I have to thank you for your favor dated March 27th giving us information of the proposed island trip now in contemplation by the Salt Lake City Lodge of Elks.

I write to get your opinion as to the desirability of our S. S. Spokane for such service. The ship has accommodations for 235 first class passengers, is well equipped (cold storage plant, etc.) to take excellent care of tourists and was built especially for the Alaska Cruise service. The ship is very popular in Alaska waters which, of course, are at all times quiet. The Spokane is not nearly so large as the President or Governor, being but 270 feet in length by 40 feet beam, drawing 18 or 19 feet of water. she is a good sea going ship provided with double bottom and watertight compartments.

The ship has not done a stroke of work since her last Alaska Cruise last summer and we would be pleased to originate business for her during the winter months. What is your judgment in the matter? Do you consider her too small a ship to handle cruises to the Islands? Before entering into correspondence with the Salt Lake people I would like to have your views.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) C. D. DUNANN."

We still continue to receive clippings of illustrated write-ups of the Floral Parade which must have been seen by many hundreds of thousands of people.

That Hawaii is receiving the serious consideration of the kind of people wanted from the United States to build up Hawaii along right lines, is evident from the following letter which is but one of many.

"We are a family of Father and Mother—each 60 years old and in good health, the former having served four years in the Union Army during the 60's—a College graduate, a teacher of the Classics for many years and also a publisher; and having been raised on one of our Penna. farms and learned practically all about that business here. We have a son 35 years old, a printer and publisher for many years. He is a widower with a 14 year old boy and 11 year old girl. We all live together, all in good health. We know enough about Hawaii to want to go there to make our final home there, but we don't know details.

We would like to settle in some suburb, two to ten miles from a city, on good roads, with churches and schools accessible.

Would like to know if your "Immigration Literature" could show us that we could so settle ourselves that we could live, having landed there with $10,000.00 net. There are a great many people here about Pittsburgh, Pa., who would go there, I have no doubt, if they knew more of the place—some rich, some with moderate capital, working people of good habits who have saved a little.

These are hard times here and me chances are disgusted with a situation that compels them to draw on their bank account to live."

It is interesting to note that State and municipal advertising is rapidly extending.

At a meeting of the different business interests of Buffalo, New York, held February 17th, it was decided to raise a fund of Five Hundred Thousand Dollars for advertising the City. Missouri is planning to spend Fifty Thousand Dollars annually, South Dakota the same. Spokane, Washington, spent Sixty Thousand Dollars in 1908; St. Paul will spend as much in 1909.

We make a point of keeping closely in touch with the progressive organizations of these different states and cities, and endeavor to profit by their experience.

Respectfully submitted,

H. P. WOOD, Secretary.
